Introducing the Asalplus Network

The Asalplus International Network is a specialized group dedicated to the production and evaluation of natural honeys.

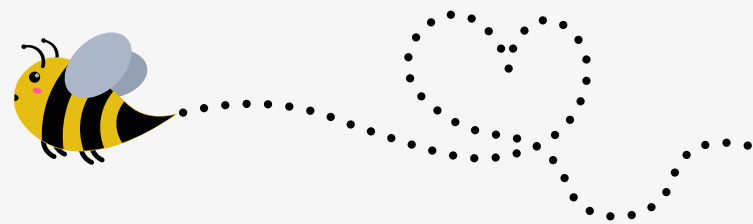

Our mission is to deliver products based on production standards, verified laboratory data, and traceable authenticity.

The network operates in collaboration with professional beekeepers and an integrated quality control system.

We believe consumers deserve a transparent, credible, and trustworthy product.

Our slogan, "The Collection of All Honeys," reflects our commitment to diversity and standardization in offering a wide range of natural honeys.

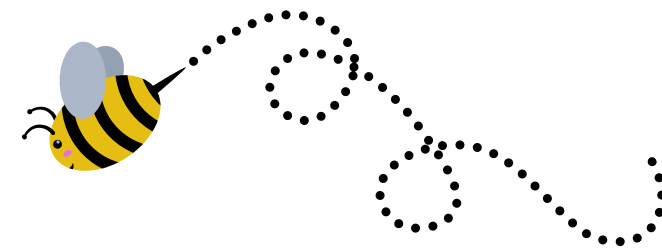

An authentic bond between nature and health

Official supplier of Iranian natural honeys

www.asalplus.com

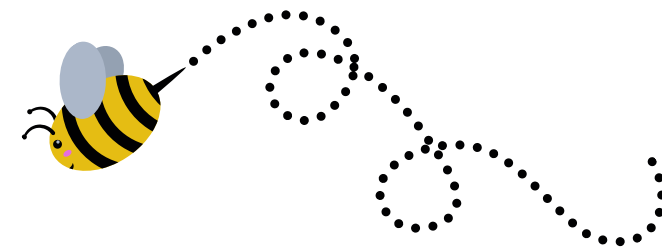

Honey with authenticity crafted to standard

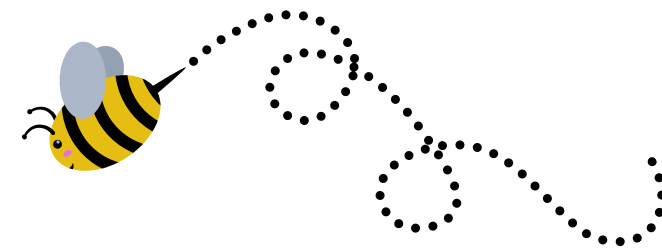

We produce natural, pure, and trustworthy honey.
From selecting the harvest region to packaging every step is carried out under expert supervision and in full compliance with quality standards.
Our goal: to deliver a product that earns your trust through laboratory verification and transparency.

From a single hive to a network of quality

Specialized production of natural honey was our starting point. Through expanded collaboration with professional beekeepers, upgraded laboratories, and a systematic quality control system, we have become one of Iran's most trusted honey brands, offering products whose authenticity and quality are verifiable.

The production path the secret of our quality

Honey by asalplus is harvested from reputable nectar-rich regions at the optimal time, without applying stress to the hives. Cold extraction preserves natural enzymes, and systematic testing in accredited laboratories (Shahid Beheshti, HortaSh, Kimia) guarantees the quality of every jar.

Honey crafted by nature, verified by science.

We've built more than just honey production—we've created a chain of trust: from direct collaboration with local beekeepers and timely harvesting in nectar-rich regions, to cold extraction and systematic testing in accredited laboratories (Shahid Beheshti, hourtash, Kimia).

Every jar of asalplus undergoes multiple quality control stages before reaching you, and is only approved for packaging upon full verification.

We are committed to preserving bee ecosystems, supporting beekeepers, and promoting mindful consumption because we know that the health of bees is the health of your family.

Our goal is simple: to become your first and most trusted choice for pure honey, with a product that proves itself not only by taste, but also by standards and transparency.

Four principles One commitment

- Purity: No additives
- Transparency: Accurate harvest information
- Standard: Verified by laboratory testing
- Responsibility: Committed to your health

We believe:

Real honey is honey proven by data, not by slogans.

Nature, purity, and wellness in every drop

Nature comes first

Every drop of our honey tells a story of pristine nature and remarkable bees. All stages are carried out with respect for the environment, delivering pure, authentic honey to you.

Purity and quality

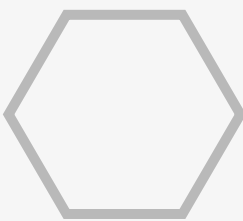

Our honey is 100% natural and free from any additives. From harvest to packaging, every step is carried out with precision and high standards to preserve its natural properties.

Transparency and traceability

Buying honey should come with trust. We provide precise information about the harvest region, production season, and quality test results, so every jar is genuine and reliable.

Health and well-being

Buying honey should be accompanied by trust. We provide accurate details about the harvest region, production season, and quality test results, ensuring every jar is authentic and trustworthy.

THE COLLECTION OF ALL HONEYS

Nature in every drop asalplus delivers pure, natural Iranian honey straight from the farm to your hands, with love for bees and respect for nature. Every jar reflects meticulous harvesting, high-quality standards, and a commitment to your well-being. From fragrant blossoms to your table, we guarantee that every drop is rich in authentic flavor and natural benefits.
